CITY OF LOS ALTOS CA

Education and Qualifications:

Los Altos needs experienced leaders to deal with issues ranging from crime and traffic safety to state building mandates and the adverse economic effects of COVID-19.

Using my masters in engineering and Stanford MBA, I have solved complex engineering and business problems for cities like Boston, large companies including HP and IBM, and startups. Since retiring from corporate life, I have given back to the community as a youth athletic coach, Kiwanis distinguished president and board member, and pastor. Currently, I serve as vice chair of the Los Altos Parks and Recreation Commission, where I am committed to expanding parkland.

My business experience and local volunteerism are the foundation for my transparent and collaborative approach to listening and building consensus. I am an experienced, realistic problem solver.

I will lead with integrity, will emphasize fiscal responsibility, will improve communication between residents and city government, and will put residents' interests ahead of special interests.

My wife and I have enjoyed living in Los Altos for 33 years. We raised our children here and are invested in this community. I pledge to devote my experience and energies to listening to you and solving the issues we face.

I respectfully ask for your vote. Scott4LosAltos.com 650-680-5934
