Public Comments:
Los Altos resident Dana Tasic expressed a huge opposition to a dog park at Lincoln Park. She indicated that 25 to 30 neighborhood people are part of a collective force opposing the proposed LP location. She believes that a dog park in LP would negatively affect the neighborhood, use of the sidewalk, and mixed use of the area. She’s frustrated that this issue is coming up again.

Los Altos resident Henry Moore spoke about root rot related to overwatering. He believes that dog urine isn’t a large issue, but spraying water to keep dust down will kill the oak trees.

Los Altos resident Mike Shadduck lives near McKenzie Park and doesn’t understand why the park needs to be changed (after he praised the original park renovation). He is against dog parks in general, at both locations. He also is not a proponent of the way the Workshops are going to be conducted. He feels that defending McKenzie again is unnecessary (against a pool, school location). He isn’t opposed to off-leash hours.

Los Altos resident Anne Scott lives in the Lincoln Park area and is against a fenced-in dog park in both listed locations. She also expressed incredulity that the Commissioners and City Staff are adequately prepared for the workshops.
Los Altos resident Tom Johnson believes that there is not overwhelming support for a dog park and believes that open space is more important. He expressed doubt about the online survey (that was conducted by an outside source) and approved more of the survey conducted by Linda White.

Los Altos resident Derek Pitcher expressed serious concerned about the caterpillar issue at McKenzie Park. He believes that the arborist didn’t thoroughly study the park. He believes that off-leash hours could be appropriate at every park.

Los Altos resident Reena Kapoor lives near Grant Park. She would like off-leash hours in most of the parks (although she is not a proponent of fenced-in dog parks). She expressed passion for several issues – reports of caterpillars,

Los Altos resident Michael Shafran does not believe that Lincoln Park is ideal for a dog park. He believes that the Commissioners need more information and that the information needs to be more straightforward.

Los Altos resident Jill Reimann spoke on safety issues regarding Lincoln Park (dogs, people, and the environment). She believes that Lincoln Park cannot handle a “de facto community area for dogs” and still be safe.

Los Altos resident Dave Backs wanted to speak about his 5-page document he sent in this week. He cited that he has been to many PARC meetings, and he subsequently formed a neighborhood group. They are additionally opposed to LP as a fenced-in park for the following reason: the size is inappropriate (especially considering that it was reduced).

Los Altos resident Harry Guy spoke to give direction and comments regarding to the workshops. He believes pros and cons should be presented (such as with a ballot measure). He also believes that anyone can and should attend the workshops, but only City Staff, Commissioners, and residents should be allowed to present. He believes that stickers will provide a visual bias and that voter ballet cards would be a better approach.

Los Altos reside Janet Corrigan yields her time in, stating that her comments have already been covered.

Los Altos resident John Corrigan spoke first about the direct mail approach (online campaigning, direct messages through Next Door, and door to door visits – 52% dog owners). His highlight question about Los Altos land yielded the result that over 70% wanted open land (as a top priority).

Cupertino resident (and PARC member) Carol Stanek believes that separating opinions about fenced-in dog parks and off-leash hours should be paramount. She thinks PARC should examine the ADA repercussions prior to bringing the issues to City Council. She expressed doubts about the staff-recommended hours. ((Establish of pilot program for a dog park was resident driven and related to a single park.))
Los Altos resident Doug Bainey lives near McKenzie Park and is adamantly against a fenced-in park at his location. He is in awe about how a non-resident has taken up so much time and energy on the dog park issue. He admits that he’s an outspoken advocate for his neighborhood park. He is also a proponent of protecting the open space at Lincoln Park. He wants the parks-in-lieu fees to be used to purchase space elsewhere.

Los Altos resident Frank Martin wants only residents and adults to be able to vote at the workshops. He wants off-leash hours at many parks. He recommends mirroring Mountain View’s model.

Los Altos resident Nikki Selden is a PTA parent at Los Altos High School who lives in Lincoln Park. She believes that adding an additional thing (park, churches, etc) to that area will be a major traffic hazard.

Los Altos resident Stacey Walter lives near Lincoln Park and appreciates the PARC’s work on this process, but has the following concerns: the first survey (March 2018) mentioned North Lincoln Park (vs South, as currently proposed) and that all current parks are unsuitable (based on the City’s criteria) to be a fenced-in dog park. She requested that voting be suspended for any particular site, evaluate other options (City-owned sites), and facilitate more discussion among residents.

4. Energy Independence for Parks & Facilities Subcommittee

   Public Comment: None
